40 Years of Community Aloha For Ka Iwi Coast

- 1972 Community organizes to oppose a 7,756-room resort at Awāwamalu.
- 1972 The State condemns 305 acres at Awāwamalu for incorporation into the proposed Ka Iwi State Park.
- 1983 City rezones Awāwamalu in response to 10 year community effort to stop the proposed resort.
- 2002 City purchases the land near Sandy Beach Park once targeted for development.
- 1987 City's "Coastal View Study," notes that the Koko Head Viewshed from Hanauma Bay to Makapu'u "has long been recognized for its unique visual and environmental qualities," and is "the crescendo of a continuous visual sequence" from Hawai'i Kai or Waimānalo
- 2006 Community launches "No Cabins on Ka Iwi" campaign following plans for 180 "resort cabins" on the Ka Iwi Coast Mauka Lands.
- 2009 New developer purchases the 182-acre Ka Iwi Coast Mauka Lands for $9 million and announces plans to build a "golf academy" and visitor facilities.
- 1988 40,000 signatures collected in 10 weeks—the Save Sandy Beach Initiative is put on the ballot and residents vote overwhelmingly to rezone land mauka of Sandy Beach Park from residential to preservation to prevent a luxury residential subdivision. The Legislature unanimously passes a resolution asking DLNR to develop a park plan for Ka Iwi Coast.
- 2010 Urged by community, the State redesignates the coastal Awāwamalu lands from "urban" to "conservation."
- 1989 Hawai'i Supreme Court strikes down the ballot initiative and removes all counties of their land-use initiative voting rights. Soon thereafter, the City Council voted unanimously to rezone the parcels mauka of Sandy Beach from residential to preservation.
- 2011 Ka Iwi Coalition, now a committee under the nonprofit Livable Hawai'i Kai Hui, initiates discussion of a purchase of the Ka Iwi Coast Mauka Lands. Ka Iwi Coalition contacts the Trust for Public Land for help.
- 1995 Proposed 12 parcel development along Ka Iwi Coast is dropped after
- 2014 The Trust for Public Land & Livable Hawai'i Kai Hui receive $3.5M for the purchase from the City Clean Water and Natural Lands Program, and the State Legacy Land Conservation Program.
- 2015 You help to save the Ka Iwi Coast Mauka Lands, completing this 40 year movement to protect the entire Ka Iwi Coast.
