

Second Saturdays

Hāwea Heiau Complex & Keawāwa Wetland
6888 Hawaii Kai Drive

July 14th & August 11th

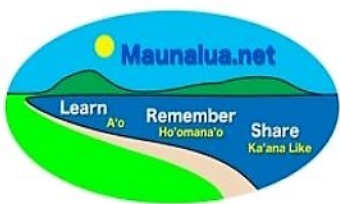

Helping hands needed to mālama the marshes and enhance Keawāwa Wetland, a habitat for Hawai'i's 'ālae 'ula (Hawaiian moorhen). Tend to native plantings throughout the cultural and natural preserve's five acres, and get a chance to spot the elusive, endangered water bird found only on Kaua'i and O'ahu.

From keiki to kūpuna, everybody is welcome. Student service project credit available. Orientation begins 8:30 a.m.

Tools, water and snacks provided, please bring reusable H₂O bottle. Limited supply of gloves. Wear closed shoes, long pants, sun block, and sunglasses.

Easy street parking though we encourage you to walk, bike, or carpool. No restroom on property.

A COMMUNITY DRIVEN, VOLUNTEER-BASED RESTORATION PROJECT.
